Objective

The overall objectives of the Freedom Through Vigilance Association (FTVA) are to foster continued awareness of the mission and accomplishments of the United States Air Force, in general, and specifically those of the Air Force Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance Agency – and to provide Association members a forum for desirable social, educational and humanitarian services.

Period of history

This history covers October 2014 – September 2015 and spans the social year of the FTVA.

Organization

The Kelly AFB Commander, Col. John Webb, organized the Freedom Through Vigilance Association, formerly known as the USAFSS/ESC Association and the USAFSS/ESC Alumni Association, on October 26, 1981, with the approval of the Association's Constitution and Bylaws. The Alumni charter was granted on December 2, 1981. William T. Ballard was the chartering president.

25th AIR FORCE NEWS

9/29/2014 - JOINT BASE SAN ANTONIO - LACKLAND, Texas -- As the Air Force's premier intelligence organization approaches its 66th Anniversary, it will mark the occasion under a new unit name and structure. The Air Force Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance Agency is now the Twenty-Fifth Air Force, following its re-designation ceremony Sept. 29 in the headquarters Ardisana Courtyard here on Security Hill. It's the sixth iteration of the organization which was activated as the United States Air Force Security Service in October 1948. This latest re-designation allows 25 AF, realigned under Air Combat Command, to focus on ISR, electronic warfare, airborne national command and control, nuclear detection and treaty monitoring, targeting and analysis operations. The newest Numbered Air Force will provide decision advantage from those operations, through ACC, to joint commanders, national leaders and coalition partners. "Placing Twenty-Fifth Air Force under ACC is all about operations effectiveness," said Gen. Mike Hostage, Commander of Air Combat Command, who officiated the ceremony. "It'll be the one-stop shop for operational ISR within the Air Force, which will streamline program accuracy and presentation by the Air Force." As the ISR force provider, ACC can ensure consistent presentation of ISR resources to warfighters. Maj. Gen. John Shanahan, former Air Force ISR Agency commander, assumed command of 25 AF and presided over the re-alignment of the 55th Wing, Offutt Air Force Base, Neb., and the 9th Reconnaissance Wing, Beale AFB, Calif., from 12 AF to 25 AF. "As we begin to write the next chapter of Air Force ISR, titled Twenty-Fifth Air Force, our legacy will become even richer and even more storied," Shanahan told the courtyard gathering. "For the first time in Air Force history, ISR will have a 4-star leader with the mandate, force structure and resources to truly maximize the entirety of the vast Air Force ISR enterprise." Twenty-Fifth Air Force will create an opportunity for greater operational synchronization and greater integration of Air Force ISR products and analysis for the national intelligence community. "The men and women of Twenty-Fifth Air Force have a tremendous opportunity to shape Air Force ISR in ways I and other AFISRA commanders could only have dreamed of," said Lt. Gen. Robert Otto, Headquarters United States Air Force Deputy Chief of Staff, Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance and former commander of the Air Force ISR Agency. "I know it's your hard and selfless work that has gotten us to this day. Your leadership, innovation and commitment will deliver success. It's in your DNA." The newest NAF will also provide an organizational link to strengthen full-spectrum targeting and threat warning to Air Force and Joint Force commanders through ACC. During the ceremony Otto and Shanahan teamed with AF ISR Agency Command Chief Master Sgt. Roger Towberman to furl the AFISRA flag which is now a permanent part of the unit's storied heritage. It joined predecessor flags representing the USAF Security Service, the Electronic Security Command, Air Force Intelligence Command and Air Intelligence Agency. Each iteration met growing mission requirements. Through nearly seven decades its silent warriors have analyzed and exploited near real-time intelligence to provide decision advantage for combatant commanders on the ground and our Nation's leadership. Today, 25 AF continues that commitment as it meets ever-changing global challenges.

The Last 'Grasp' of Misawa's FLR-9

Posted by Jim Kaus

This stunning photo was taken (Mid-Jan) by Cecil Hahn in Misawa, as the FLR-9 was being dismantled. Now, Elmendorf has the only one left.

A real true testimonial to how well it was built - over the course of 40+ years, it withstood a boatload of tremors, typhoons and several full blown earthquakes and it kept right on ticking. //Ron Marcoullier//

Lest We Forget!!

(Abridged writing by Don Lehman)

In the mid-1960's USAFSS Command Headquarters announced that Security Service would have its very own (though short-lived) QC recognition effort called the 'BEAVER' Award Program. Some were delighted to hear this until they learned the term was an acronym (Be Ever Alert & Vigilant for Error Removal) for a Department of Defense mandated "Zero-Defects" program. The Command played an important role in planning, budgeting, logistical and other support activities to implement this NSA directive. Three pins (bronze, silver and gold) were designed for presentation to 'winners' based on 30, 60 or 90 days or more of individual error-free performance. Some attached them to their green restricted area badge while others reportedly earned one pin upon returning from a 30-day TDY or leave of absence.

INTELLIGENCE SQUADRON, DETACHMENT INACTIVATE AFTER DECADES OF SERVICE

*Adapted from an article by MSgt
Aaron Cram, 421 Air Base Group*

6/29/2015 - RAF MENWITH HILL, United Kingdom – Leaders furled and cased the 451st Intelligence Squadron and 451st IS Detachment 1 guidons during an inactivation ceremony here June 24.

The inactivation ends more than 20 years of intelligence support in the United Kingdom provided by both organizations since the early 1990s. The squadron activated in May 1991 at then Menwith Hill Station and the detachment activated in June 1993 at RAF Chicksands before relocating to RAF Digby.

The 451st started its mission at Menwith Hill providing intelligence support, but has grown to provide a wide array of capabilities used across the Air Force, Department of Defense and global mission partners. The squadron served under three different wings, four groups and had three different unit designations while active at Menwith Hill. The service was recognized with 11 Air Force Outstanding Col. Timothy Suttles, the acting 70th Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance Wing vice commander and presiding officer for the ceremony, recognized the unit's achievements and marveled at what they accomplished with such a small organization.

"If you sit back and look at all of the accomplishments that come out of Menwith Hill, you'd think there were thousands of people performing a wide variety of tasks," he said. "You do work on a wide variety of tasks, but there aren't thousands of you. Sometimes it's a dozen or so people working with our mission partners. It's incredible what you were able to accomplish."

The squadron commander, Lt. Col. Rita Carey, echoed the vice commander's words about the squadron's ability to complete its mission while pointing out the squadron's more than 10 Menwith Hill site awards, more than 20 higher echelon awards and six distinguished graduates from professional military education schools over the last two years.

"When I took command two years ago, I was the last Airman to PCS into the squadron," she said. "At first, I envisioned us just getting by until we were all able to leave. Much to my relief, our Airmen were eager to push forward until the very last day. Together with our joint military coalition and civilian mission partners we were able to satisfy more than 18,000 national requirements and successfully branch out into areas Airmen never worked before.

"We as a squadron make up less than 2 percent of the wing, yet we produced over 20 percent of the wing's operational highlights to the Air Force Intelligence Surveillance and Reconnaissance Agency and 115 items in the President's daily brief," Carey said.

Carey also thanked the members of the squadron for their service after she was recognized with the Meritorious Service Medal. "To the men and women of the 451st, it's been an honor serving with you," she said. "You stayed the course through a long period of unprecedented change while juggling your personal and professional lives. Thank you for your focus and dedication. A commander couldn't have hoped for any more."

Suttles reminded everyone in attendance the squadron's inactivation is not the end for the unit or its accomplishments. "While inactivation sounds like a negative thing, let's remember the old saying," he said. "All beginnings start with another beginning's end. While we do not know when, where or if the 451st will be reactivated, one thing we do know for sure is the accomplishments of the dedicated, outstanding Airmen and the unique and special relationships formed with our mission partners will endure forever."

Memories of Diyarbakir Air Station, Turkey

R1-20: Diyarbakir Air Station--On the left is the building that housed the Airmen and NCO clubs. In the middle is one of the COLDEST swimming pools I have ever swum in & extended my tour 90 days. The large building behind the swimming pool housed the gym which also served as our movie theater. USO shows were performed there, too. (Oct '62) Ops building & antenna field not shown.

On the left is the building that housed the Airmen and NCO Clubs. In the middle is one of the COLDEST swimming pools I've ever swum in and made my tour seem 90 days longer! The large building behind the pool housed the gym which also served as our movie theater. USO shows were performed there too. (Oct '62) Ops building & antenna (field not shown). What caught my eye here is that after I got out of AF, I finished college and went to work for AFES (BX business). One of my assignments in 1977 was GM at Karamursel AFB. The compound was still there, but owned by the Turks then. And if you were at Sinop or Diyarbakir, from 1985-87, I ran the exchange system in the middle east and lived in Izmir from where I occasionally traveled to Sinop and Diyarbakir which were both still listening posts at that time.//Bob (Tex) Summerlin//

The Freedom Through Vigilance Association realizes its objectives, in part, by providing funds for programs that reward the hardworking, dedicated AF ISR Agency people who go "above and beyond" to achieve the command mission. Since 1985, the Vigilant Partners' Program has helped provide an expanded base of support. Modeled after the Industrial Associates of the Air Force Association, the program permits industry, corporations, businesses and even individuals interested in the agency's mission to join us in helping fund agency programs. FREEDOM THROUGH VIGILANCE ASSOCIATION

P.O. Box 691616

San Antonio, Texas 78269-1616

- 1. September 27, 2014 FTVA ANNUAL GENERAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING. After Vice Andy Smith determined we had a quorum, President Ron Haygood called the meeting to order at 1201 hours in the Bernard A. Langer Auditorium (BALA), building 2007 (Larson Hall), HQ Air Force ISR Agency, Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.
- 2. Attendee who traveled the farthest: Several states mentioned but no determination made on who traveled the farthest. California, Washington (state), New Jersey and Washington DC were all mentioned.
- 3. Attendee with the earliest employment connection was Bob Finch who started his service in 1952.
- 4. Reading of the Minutes: Minutes of the SEP 2013 FTVA General Membership Meeting were read and approved.
- 5. Treasurer's report: Was read and filed for audit.
- 6. Vigilant Partners Update: Jim McLendon provided excellent update on the Vigilant Partners program and its continued success. Corporate donations are down, but individual donations are up.
- 7. Hall of Honor Update: A.J. Harrison thanked everyone for their help and contributions during the Hall of Honor nomination and selection process for the year. The 176th HoH member was inducted today and joins a small number of exceptional and highly deserving members. There were 17 nomination packages submitted this year; and, as always, the selection process was difficult.
- 8. Social Activities Update: Ken Williams provided a recap of the Spring Social earlier this year. It was held off base again, and was very successful. We plan to continue with the off-base venue. The banquet this year is the largest ever with a total of 310 tickets sold. Cocktail hour starts at 1730; hope to see you there.
- 9. Sports Update. Ron Haygood updated on behalf of Dennis Buxton who could not be there. The golf outing was another tremendous success, enjoyed by all. Joe Hurst got to golf for the first time in years, thanks to Dennis taking over his duties as Sports Chair.

10. Picnic Update: Jacque Lerma briefed that the picnic this year was another great event. Donations totaled $890.

11. Newsletter Update: Dennis Rasmussen provided an update on Newsletter highlights and activities over the past year. He repeated his thanks to the many people who have opted to switch to receiving the Newsletter electronically because it saves us time, money, and effort (not to mention paper). Ted Colquhoun manages the Fallen Eagles program; in order to ensure that data is presented in the Newsletter, need some help please. Chief Joe “Pepito” Figueroa volunteered to be the Fallen Eagles Editor for the Newsletter.

12. FTVA History Update: Bernie Gavin provided a recap of the previous year’s history and let us know that he adjusted the time window of the history report to match the General Membership Meeting. The annual History Reports are now available on the FTVA website.

13. Chapter Reports:

- a. HERITAGE CHAPTER, JJ Graham: 2014 has been yet another busy year for us, with many interesting projects in the works. Col Kim Joos is the new Wing Commander at Goodfellow and she has been incredibly supportive of us and all our activities. We also support the FTVA main chapter as well, of course. We finished the EC-47 displays, and now have electronic photo displays that portray lots of historical data that all of our student Airmen get to see regularly. It is an amazing display, recommend you stop by to see it if able. On the 27th of October we are having a ceremony to commemorate the fact that all the crewmembers of Baron 52 shot down in Vietnam have been identified; bringing closure to several families who lost loved ones in that tragic event.
- b. ROCKY MOUNTAIN CHAPTER, Bernie Gavin: Greg Roman is President, and George “Ike” Eichelberger is Vice President. They continue efforts to partner with the 544th ISR Group; and they are still working with the staff of the Air Force Academy to identify and mentor 14N Intelligence Officer Cadets. And they are still working to recruit new members from the Buckley and Denver areas.

15. ELECTION OF OFFICERS: Bob Cope was re-elected as Treasurer, and Loren “Phred” Sevensing was re-elected as Secretary, both for two-year terms.

16. OPEN FORUM:

- a. RON HAYGOOD: Thanked everyone for the support in another great series of events, and for working through the issues of sequestration, cutbacks, reductions, and other problems. We have a great team and continue to do great things. We need our help in bringing in a new crowd, new lifeblood, into the organization. If you are in San Antonio, Texas on the 3rd Friday of the month, stop on by and join us for our monthly meeting, everyone is welcome.

- b. DENNIS RASSMUSSEN: Please be on the lookout for Skeeter Dickerson’s photo album. He shared that with us while we were preparing for his Hall of Honor induction, and it ended up missing. It was supposed to go to the Air Force ISR Agency History Office, but it never made it there.
- c. BILL SHECK: What happened to the idea of getting nametags for lifetime members? Way too many of us see people at these events and we have to start out with “I know I know you...” And having nametags would sure help avoid that embarrassment.
- d. PEPITO FIGUEROA: I just moved here to retire from the Air Force and I want to get actively involved with FTVA. I have had many fantastic mentors from among you over the years, and I want to pay it back. I want to help, but I need your help to let me know what can be done.

17. There being no further business, a motion was made, seconded, and approved to adjourn at 1309.

Respectfully Submitted,

//NOT Signed//
